

THE NEVADA TEAM IS DEFEATED BY A SCRATCH

The Score Was Zero to Zero Until Thirty Seconds Before the End of the Game.

The harp, that once through Lincoln Hall the soul of music shed, has been hung upon the weeping willow tree. In the Girl's Cottage there is a murky gloom and a melancholy darkness down town that can be felt. The low hanging clouds yesterday morning presaged defeat. Our vanquishers brought California climate over with them.

There's a gleam of satisfaction, however, in the thought that it took the best that could be gathered together to defeat Nevada. Yale, Berkeley and Stanford giants were pitted against the lightweight team that was gathered together here from among the flotsam and jetsam of the wreckage of the recent battles on the California gridiron.

Accident, sickness and death were responsible for the absence of three of Nevada's star players, and several of those who participated in the game had just emerged from the sickroom.

Nobody expected Nevada to win. That accounted for the rather small crowd that witnessed the contest.

The Olympics got the kickoff and Nevada kept the ball nearly all the first half, going through the big city players with apparent ease. Whenever the ball was lost and won again the advances were repeated. Toward the close of the half the Olympics took a brace and were dangerously near Nevada's goal when the whistle sounded.

In the second half the honors were more even until the huge Cadawader, Yale's erstwhile star, began making advances. Prior to this time his work had mainly been done by word of mouth.

Down the line came the red jerseys, driving back the blues by sheer weight. Eight yards from Nevada's goal the locals rallied. Less than a minute of play remained. It was the Olympic's third down. The ball was kicked and Nevada returned it in like manner. Again it was kicked by the visitors. It rose high in the air. Not a sound from the crowd. Hearts stopped beating and all eyes followed the spheroid in its course. Just over the bar and between the posts.

Olympics went wild they hugged each other and shrieked with joy. Silently the crowd melted away.

THE GAME IN DETAIL.

The opposing teams lined up against each other at 3 o'clock on the Varsity oval. Olympics won the toss and took the kick-off, choosing the north goal.

Lawrence received the ball and ran it in five yards. Then ensued some brilliant bucking by the sagebrushers. Lawrence tore through the center for repeated gains and Hoffman skirted the ends.

Early in the first half Graham made a twenty-yard dash on a delayed pass. On the thirty-five yard line the sagebrushers were held for downs and were compelled to kick.

The ball rolled over the goal line and was brought back twenty-five yards. Olympics punted to Hoffman, who ran the ball to the fifty-yard line. Then by bucks by Lawrence and Hoffman the ball was carried down to the thirty-five yard line.

The Nevadans were again forced to kick, the ball once more rolling over the goal line.

In the latter part of the first half the Olympics got possession of the ball and by clever work of Gammon and Cadawader, the ball was carried to the fifteen-yard line, when time was called.

In the second half Nevada kicked off to Gammon, who was downed in his tracks by Rordan. Gammon and Sherman made big gains around Nevada's ends and Cadawader and Gammon made advances through the line. By the steady onslaughts of the Olympics the ball was carried to Nevada's ten-yard line.

A touchdown seemed imminent, but the plucky sagebrushers took a brace and held their opponents on downs. When Nevada got the ball there was a full back punt Gammon captured the ball on the thirty-five yard line.

A clever place kick by Rithert sent the pigskin whirling between the goal posts and the Olympics scored. Almost immediately afterward time was called and the game ended.

Score—Olympics, 5, Nevada, 0.

SOME OF THE PLAYERS.

Lawrence for Nevada is a new man at fullback. He did some fine work. His line bucking and interference was superb. Hoffman repeated the good work he did against Stanford. He was the only Nevadan who could do anything with Olympic's ends. Rordan was immense on line bucking and was a hard player on the defensive. The plucky captain was compelled to retire in the second half and his brother played his position.

For the Olympics Gammon is deserving of special mention. He is undoubtedly the finest half on the coast. Cadawader bucked the line for a number of gains. He and Cash Smith were pitted against each other. It was a duel between two giants. The Olympic team contained several eastern and western stars. More than half the players are Varsity men.

Theatre Goers Were Well Entertained.

The theatre was well filled last evening to witness the rendition of "At the Old Cross Roads."

The piece is true to life and the performers were selected especially for their various parts. The new play is a romantic southern comedy-drama from the pen of the brilliant Hal Reid.

The scene is laid in the Southland and is replete with heart interest.

There is special interest attached to plays of this sort from the fact that the color line is now being so plainly drawn south of the Mason and Dixon line.

All the members of the cast acquitted themselves with credit.

THE JOURNAL PRAISED BY A FAMOUS CRITIC

A Stray Copy Is Pounced Upon by the New York Retailer and Advertiser.

The New York Retailer and Advertiser, the world's leading newspaper critic, makes this paper the subject of its leading article in its last issue. The criticism, which was not only solicited, but came unexpectedly, is here reproduced:

THE WESTERN STYLE.

Reno, Nevada, can boast of a newspaper that is a newspaper. The Daily Nevada State Journal is the interesting paper to which we refer. It is interesting mainly because it is natural. It may not be able to boast of elegant press work, nor elegant English, but nevertheless you always know just the meaning the writer wished to convey. Could any words better express the joys of a mining camp than these:

Our people are happy. Forty barrels of whiskey and a carload of beer arrived last week.

The marriage announcements are not at all like the announcements you and I are accustomed to see, but they are refreshing reading as these will show:

The marriage bureau was kept busy yesterday. The following couples united hearts and hands:

T. A. Marlon and Dollie M. Ayers, both of Oakland, spoke the words that create the tie that binds.

James Oldens and Maude Lynouns were the next couple to put their heads in the noose. They both hail from Fresno.

Local matters of importance, or otherwise, are treated in a breezy manner. We who must read city papers for the news of the day almost forget the things which interest the small town folk of our western country. It brings back the old times that were spent in that free and easy and natural country to read such items as these:

Uncle Dick Nash made his rounds Tuesday night attired in a swallow-tail coat. "Porcupine Bill" was similarly arrayed that evening, while Parsee, the Prospector, wore a flaming red necktie. There was a remarkable coincidence in the fact that so many people were arrayed in their best on that evening, when there seemed to be nothing occurring that called for the gorgeous plumage.

And the advertising. We have read the advertising of many, many papers, city papers and country papers, and there are only a few that can beat the Daily Nevada State Journal in the "make-up" of its advertising columns. There is one announcement in the paper that we have before us that hits right in our good advertising spot. It is a boon and one that would be hard to beat. There is no bombast, its simplicity of language makes it sincere. After reading it you feel sure that the advertisers are "on the level." We reprint this ad below as an example of a well worded announcement.

THE OWL.

First-class Saloon and Gaming Rooms, where petty good drinks and cigars are sold, and square games are run for those who buck the Tiger.

The mate of Reno's "Owl" is out at Lovelock, where Messrs. Barclay & Unacke will be pleased to have their Washoe county friends drop in when visiting the Big Meadows.

BREARLEY, UNACKE & WILSON,
New Quinn Building.

At some time in the near future we will reproduce in The Retailer & Advertiser a few more of the excellent advertisements which appear in this number of the Daily Nevada State Journal.

TO PROSPECTORS AND MINERS.

THE NEW TREATY.

LORD PAUNCEFOTE, the British Ambassador has brought over the new Nicaragua treaty, which will be presented to the Senate this winter for ratification. The principal points in the new treaty are these:

The complete and unreserved abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty

The waiving by Great Britain of any participation in control of an isthmian canal, if one be constructed by the United States. The canal to be open in times of peace on equal terms to the vessels of all nations.

The neutrality of the canal is guaranteed alone by the United States, no guarantee from any other maritime power being asked or required, although Great Britain by inference becomes a guarantor of neutrality by reason of being a party signatory to the treaty.

The United States reserves the right in the event of war to take any and all necessary steps for the adequate protection of the canal.

Thus it will be seen that the important objections to the former treaty have been removed. The Clayton-Bulwer treaty is abrogated for all time. The United States has the right to fortify the canal if it chooses. It is authorized to take possession of the canal in time of war, and is not required to turn its property over to the nations of the world to guarantee its neutrality. The canal will of course be neutral, as it should be, and open to vessels of all nations, but as it will be a military as well as a commercial enterprise, this country will have what military advantages that accrue from its construction.

From an American standpoint, we can discern no objection to the treaty so far as we can learn from such published portions as have come under our notice.

ROOSEVELT'S MESSAGE.

CHAMP CLARK, the Washington correspondent says: "Many scribes with many minds, writing for many papers, are guessing and philosophizing as to what the president's message will and will not contain. The only real thing anybody can guess or predict about it with an approximation to truth is that it will be Roosevelt's message and that of nobody else. Colonel Roosevelt can render the country a positive service by cutting it down to a paper of such length that people will read it. Whether people like or did not like it. Grover Cleveland in December 1887, sent to Congress the most interesting message within the memory of men now living. True, it beat Grover for re-election, but it was interesting nevertheless and made statesmen and politicians jump Jim Crow from the St. Lawrence to the Dry Tortugas and from Cape Cod to the Aleutian islands. It was the substance of Grover's message and not the plan of it that did the work for him. The plan was most admirable—that was to take a subject of interest and write a terse, compact, luminous essay upon it, of such length that people would read it. President Roosevelt has two or three such subjects on which he might try his 'prentice hand—reciprocity, for instance, or trusts or imperialism."

The Journal's only "guess" has been irrigation, which Champ has omitted. A very short time will develop the accuracy or the reverse of The Journal's prophecy.

PETTICOAT MILITARY RULE.

IT IS reported on what seems to be good authority that Lady Roberts, wife of General Lord Roberts, is responsible for the degradation of General Buller. The story goes that Lady Roberts, felt aggrieved at some social slight put upon her by the wife of General Buller, before General Roberts became a Lord. When Buller was restored to the command of the army corps, Lady Roberts arose in her wrath and insisted that he be retired. Her influence with her husband was such that he exercised his influence and authority and had her demand complied with, and so Buller was retired. It was reported that Buller's disgrace was visited upon him because of his Ladysmith speech, but this seems to have been only an excuse seized upon for the purpose of concealing the real cause. If the story is true it offers some explanation of the disastrous campaign management of the British in South Africa, and the Boers are gainers by the petticoat government in the military system of their enemies.

SENATOR STEWART, in an interview, says he is in favor of Hanna's ship subsidy bill and hopes it will pass at the coming session of Congress. The bill is probably the most outrageous and corrupt measure ever introduced in Congress. It is hardly necessary for the Senator to state his position on the bill. There is no room for doubt as to how his vote will be cast.—Silver State.

At all events, Stewart cannot be accused of inconsistency in his vote for the Hanna scheme to make an outlet for the treasury surplus. He voted for the Dingley law, under which it has accumulated and which taxes the people of Nevada more than ten per cent additional for the necessities of life, and without benefitting any of them to the amount of a nickel. The little dab that Nevada has in the surplus is lost to them forever and it is of little moment to them how it is squandered.

LOOK out for the politicians who decline nominations before they are tendered.—Report.

And also look out for alleged Democratic and Silver party politicians who boast of the number of Republican votes they can poll if nominated for a State office. The fusion parties are strong enough to elect their entire State ticket and can afford to nominate true and reliable men of their own choice and without making concessions to their enemies.

THE triumph of the Examiner ought now to be complete and its rivals who utilized the sorrow of a nation to abuse a rival ought to crawl out of sight. The fact that Tobin received the smallest vote in the race for Mayor and the fact that he was supported by the Call and Chronicle is a sad commentary upon the influence of those papers and Tobin may well exclaim, God save me from my friends. The election of Schmitz, clearly shows that the Examiner, the friend of the people and champion of labor, is still doing business at the old stand.

BRIGHAM YOUNG may have been a polygamist but his plurality of wives seem to have in no way interfered with his broad statesmanlike views, as the valleys and villages of Utah stand a monument to the system of irrigation and industrial development and State growth adopted by Brigham Young in Utah shows him to have been one of the great constructive statesmen of his age. Nevada can well profit by the system and organization that has made Utah so rich and well developed.

DEMOCRATIC votes in the interests of reform in New York and San Francisco brought about the recent landslides in those cities. It was not a distinct Republican victory by any means.

The working force on the Lineville has been increased; as developments proceed the vein is widening.

From the first 100 tons of ore plowed up by W. C. Williams from the surface of his claim at Olinghouse he has received $2659 from the mint.

The bulk assay value of the ore product from the Con-Virginia mine last week represents over $14,000 gold value, a daily average of more than $2,000.

The April Fool mine owners netted $7,000 from ore tailings last month.

The Lovelock Tribune says. Ed. M. Emmons has a force of men at work on the gypsum properties east of town. Experts have pronounced the gypsum deposits in the vicinity of Lovelock equal if not superior to those of Mexico.

A carload of second grade ore from Tonopah, probably averaging $100 per ton, has been received at the Kinkadee mill for a test run. If the trial run gives satisfactory returns it will result in the installation of numerous Kinkadee mills in that flourishing mining district.—Report

ADDRESS TO TEACHERS

An Open Letter Relative to the Institute at Wadsworth.

The executive committee of the W. N. T. A. have issued an address to the teachers of Nevada, of which the following is a part:

"As our institute instructor, Professor Heaton of California University, has been of great assistance to thousands of teachers in our sister State, we are fortunate in having been able to secure his services for this meeting. He will tell us not simply what ought to be done in a given branch, but how to do it.

With President Stubbs, State Superintendent Kirk, of California, and State Superintendent Ring on the program, we shall have, in addition to the institute work proper, an intellectual and professional treat rarely enjoyed at institutes in Nevada.

It is hardly necessary to speak of the need for institute work in Nevada. The problems that are now upon us for solution are upon teachers to a greater or less extent everywhere. In all our sister States teachers are organizing, studying, listening to advanced thinking, and discussing the new problems now upon the schools. Practically without a State course of study, and with scarcely any supervision from county or State, our schools are constantly in need of the unifying and vivifying effect of good institutes.

It will not be possible for visiting teachers to secure accommodations in the hotels, but all who attend and do not secure rooms in the hotels will be assigned pleasant and comfortable rooms in private residences.

It is earnestly recommended that all who intend to attend the institute write to Mr. E. E. Caine, at Wadsworth, and engage rooms. In this way every possible chance of inconvenience will be obviated. Rates for accommodations will vary from $1.25 to $1.50 per day.

Half rates, good from November 22d to December 1st, have been secured on the V. & T. and C. & C. railroads. Undoubtedly the same rate will be granted by the S. P. Co. These rates will be announced later through the press.

WOMEN AND JEWELS.

Jewels, candy, flowers, man—that is the order of a woman's preferences. Jewels form a magnet of mighty power to the average woman. Even that greatest of all jewels, health, is often sacrificed in the strenuous efforts to make or save the money to purchase them. If a woman will risk her health to get a coveted gem, then let her fortify herself against the insidious consequences of coughs, colds and bronchial affections by the regular use of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup. It will promptly arrest consumption in its early stages and heal the affected lungs and bronchial tubes and drive the dread disease from the system. It is not a cure-all, but it is certain cure for coughs, colds and all bronchial troubles. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedy at Hodgkinson's drug store. Get Green's Special Almanac.

THE FUTURE OF NEVADA

Congressman Newlands Talks of the State's Prospects.

The San Francisco Call publishes the following interview with Congressman Newlands in relation to the prospects for Nevada:

Congressman Newlands of Nevada said yesterday that there is a good chance that the bill to reclaim the arid lands that he introduced at the last session of Congress will reach action at the coming session. President Roosevelt is enthusiastically in favor of the irrigation of the arid States, that they may be reclaimed. The bill that Congressman Newlands introduced was favorably considered by two House Committees, the Committee on Arid Lands and the Committee on Public Lands. It was also favorably reported by the Senate Committee on Public Lands. There was so much business at the last session of Congress and the time was so short that the measure did not reach final consideration in the two houses.

Congressman Newlands is an enthusiastic believer in the great future of Nevada, and says that the measure that he has fathered will be a factor in the advancement of his State. It provides that the proceeds of the sale of all public lands, amounting to about $2,000,000 annually, shall go into a fund to be expended under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior in providing storage reservoirs for water in the arid States to make the lands available for settlers. The proceeds under the act must be in eighty-acre tracts. The cost of each enterprise is apportioned among all the acres capable of reclamation by it. Settlers will pay for the lands in ten annual installments. This provides that the land shall be kept good and be a revolving fund to be constantly increased by new sales of lands.

Concerning the outlook for the advancement of Nevada Mr. Newlands was very enthusiastic. He said that in the next twenty years Nevada will develop proportionately with any State in the Union. The State has been neglected in every way until recently. The policy of the railroad had been against Nevada. Mr. Newlands said: "All rail transportation lines in new countries ordinarily act as pioneers to build up population that business may be supplied to the railroads. Idaho, Utah, Montana and Arizona have been built up in that way. Nevada would have thrived similarly if the Central Pacific road had been tied to the Union Pacific. But the Central Pacific was controlled by the Southern Pacific, and he last named company was interested in building up the southern line.

"The change in the administration of the Central Pacific, the Central now being tied to the Union Pacific, promises much for Nevada. The Union Pacific desires to increase the population of Nevada and it will exert its energy to the accomplishment of that end. "For a long time Nevada was given over to speculative mining. In recent years the State has been paying attention to development along various lines. Reno is growing rapidly and is fast becoming the center of enterprise, as Salt Lake and Denver are the centers of Utah and Colorado. The decline of the Comstock gave the impression that the mineral wealth of Nevada was exhausted. The fact is that it has hardly been tapped.

"Nevada has been less protected than any of the intermountain States. It is now receiving equal attention with the other mining States. "Nevada is well watered with four streams and storage reservoirs will greatly increase the area that is capable of producing agricultural products. I look for great and general development of the resources of the State from this time on."

BRAIN-FOOD NONSENSE.

Another ridiculous food fad has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed or brain, another for muscles, and still another for bones. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutriment is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You must prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifies the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedies at Hodgkinson's drug store. Get Green's Special Almanac.

Correct Location Blanks.

Building and Loan Talk No. 21.

Why is it that both our National as well as our State Governments favor Building and Loan Companies by Special Legislation?

This question is easily answered. They consider Building and Loan the "people's proposition." To these companies all over the world is brought the savings of those with fixed incomes, and the surplus that the salaried man and the wages that the laborer has left over after paying his expenses. Our Government protects these people in every possible way. By special Congressional legislation, our contracts are without revenue stamps—every other kind of contract bears the Revenue Stamps, but Building and Loan Certificates.

The California Legislature makes deposits in these institutions free from taxation, and in order to protect the wife and babes in the event that the husband should fail in business, and become insolvent, all deposits are free from attachment to the amount of one thousand dollars. Their idea evidently was not to let the family suffer for the business reverses of the husband and father. No other kind of financial institutions, save Building and Loan Companies are thus favored. We have, therefore, the strong arm of the law around these Companies, making them both safe and profitable.

Why hesitate to benefit yourself when the opportunities are before you, to enter the modern, up-to-date company? Grasp opportunity when it is passing, for, remember, when it (opportunity) gets by, it is bald, there is nothing to hold onto. When it is gone, it is gone forever.

No. 22 is the last of this series of "Talks."

Note our strong list of head officers: A. A. Watkins (Vice-President of W. W. Montague & Co., and President of San Francisco Board of Trade) President.

Charles R. Bishop (Vice-President Bank of California), Vice-President.

S. Prentiss Smith (Director Bank of D. O. Mills & Co., Sacramento) Treasurer.

Clarence Grange (Late Building & Loan Commissioner Montana), Secretary.

For further information see T. W. Griffin, Field Manager, or assistants at Riverside Hotel.
